AVICENNA (IBN SINA)

His comprehensive works, Kitab al-Shifa and Al-Qanun fi'l-Tibb, are among the most important books in the history of medicine. Al-Qanun fi'l-Tibb is a five-volume encyclopedia covering anatomy, pharmacology, pathology, surgery, and the side effects of drugs.

Ibn Sina considered surgery as a discipline separate from medicine and developed specific strategies for it. He also emphasized eye health, like Ibn al-Haytham, and was among the first to discover that prolonged exposure to bright white light could cause blindness.

His works were used as the main medical textbooks in Europe for 700 years.

Avicenna Umut Hospital and Avicenna Ataşehir Hospital have been providing healthcare services with a commitment to quality since 1998. Surgical operations are carried out using the most advanced methods of modern medicine.

Equipped with the full potential of technology, Avicenna Private Hospital offers services 365 days a year with its team of specialists and experienced doctors. In addition, with its outpatient clinics, maternity wards, and ambulance services, the hospital is available to its patients 24 hours a day.

Avicenna Umut Hospital and Avicenna Ataşehir Hospital have never compromised on principles such as quality and compassion. While carefully selecting medical technologies, staff, and values, they have always maintained their commitment to compassion. Aiming to provide healthcare services in the most economical way, the hospital also ensures the most suitable and fair working environment for all healthcare professionals. Recognizing that sensitivity doubles when it comes to health, the hospital provides diagnosis and treatment without discrimination of race, religion, language, gender, or socio-economic differences.

From the very beginning, Avicenna Hospital has strived to ensure that people receive the best and highest-quality healthcare services. The journey toward quality, which began in 2005, was strengthened in 2008 with the ISO 9001 and 2008 Quality Standards Certification. In the same year, the hospital successfully completed the Ministry of Health's Healthcare Quality Standards compliance process, and since then, it has continued its journey with the principle of continuous improvement.
